Historic San Gabriel Mission District Walking Tour

WEDNESDAY, 5/10/2017, 9:00 AM - 12:30 PM

The San Gabriel Mission remains one of the best preserved missions in California. This special access tour by expert guides visits the historic Mission District, including the Lopez de Lowther adobe, museums, and the iconic Mission Playhouse. The Playhouse was dedicated in 1927 built by John Steven McGroarty for his famed "Mission Play." Today the theater looks much as it did when it opened, complete with tapestries presented by the King of Spain, a beautifully carved and painted ceiling, a fully operational Wurlitzer Theatre Organ - which will be demonstrated - and chandeliers that replicate the lanterns used on Spanish galleons.

Follow in the footsteps of tourists, adventurers and winter-weary Easterners. Since 1939, Los Angeles' Union Station has captivated multitudes. Learn about the station's history, architecture, rehabilitation and master plan. Travel by Metro Gold Line light rail from Pasadena to Los Angeles' Union Station. Designed as an ode to Los Angeles' Spanish past, Union Station's architecture highlights Southern California life. Its construction—early urban renewal—displaced much of L.A.'s original Chinatown. Now undergoing an extensive rehabilitation and upgrades to meet twenty-first century travel needs, current projects at Union Station will provide behind-the-scenes lessons in adapting a National Historic Landmark railroad station into an efficient intermodal transportation hub now serving over 70,000 people a day.

This tour involves extensive walking. Please let us know if you have special needs.
