

Built in 1900, The Lassie House is a Historic Landmark that was the childhood home of Jon Provost, famously known as 'Timmy', from the Television Series Lassie!

In 1927, the home was relocated from near Garey Avenue and Holt Boulevard in Pomona to its present location. The house was moved on rollers pulled along by a team of mules. Jon Provost, aka Timmy, lived here from 1955 to 1960 and would commute to Hollywood where he acted in his starring role in Lassie. While Jon lived here, he had horses, goats, chickens and even the puppy of the original Lassie.

The house is over 7,000 square feet and has eight bathrooms and eight bedrooms, on half an acre. Ray Adamyk of Spectra Company, and his wife Michelle Adamyk, the current owners, purchased the home in 2017 and extensively restored it to its original grandeur.

Front Yard

The famous Lassie Well in front of the house is built on the spot where there was an existing well, coming down from Mt Baldy, to water the orange groves.

Remnants of the original well have been preserved and are located in the front of the house and used as planters.

You will also see a Bronze Statue of Lassie and Plaque commemorating the dedication of the home as a historic landmark.

First Floor

As you walk through the front door, a Lassie statue greets you in the Foyer.

The Lassie Library/Museum contains photos and information on Lassie & Timmy.

Many stain glass features were added to complement the existing features of the house, including "The Lassie Well" and "The Tree of Life" by renowned stain glass artist Bera Stain Glass from San Diego.

In the Great Room is a hidden window that once looked outside, but now sits behind a kitchen wall. A mural, depicting songbirds, has been outfitted as a Trompe-l'oeil behind the window.

The mural, on the ceiling, below was designed by homeowner Ray Adamyk, President of Spectra Company, one of the largest preservation companies in the United States. Muralists from the United States, Canada and France were commissioned for the work, "In the Pond" depicting morning and evening of the first day.

The house has an original working Fireplace. Photos below are from 1937 and 2021.

The Knights of the Round Table Room has a most elaborate ceiling mural depicting medieval knights, crosses and a gothic light fixture. There are also crests from family origins on the ceiling beams from England and Scotland.

The Farmhouse Kitchen has a beautiful replica of a fourteen-seat farm table.

Second Floor

In the Bathroom, upstairs next to Jon's childhood bedroom, original wallpaper of children playing cowboys and Indians was uncovered.

Bedrooms

Timmy's Room – Jon's childhood bedroom

Grandma's Room

Princess Diana Room

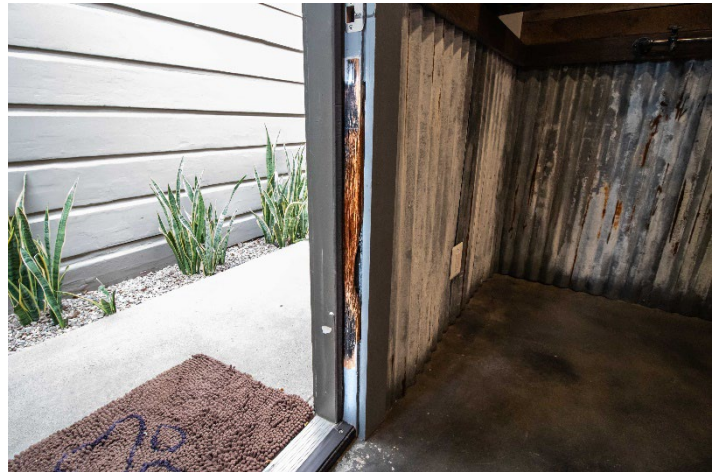

Queen Mary Room

Backyard – Due to another event, there is no access to the backyard – please feel free to look through the windows.

The Original Horse Carriage, has been turned into a bathhouse with two restrooms. Behind the bathhouse are lockers and hot showers. In the back restroom of the bathhouse is a reminder of Jon's collie dog chewing on the door frame.

The exterior hosts “The Pomona Beach” complete with sand and a Huntington Beach look fire pit.

The oversized spa and pool better known as the Lassie Pond have features of waterfalls and the feel of being in the mountain canyons with a stream.

The back Courtyard is complete with double oversized BBQs & fridge. complete with a wet bar & fridge. There are seating and lounge areas throughout.

